Background of this Case

The plaintiff is a resident of Cheraw, South Carolina. The above-captioned case arises out of an automobile accident involving the plaintiff. The accident took place on November 7, 2000. The plaintiff was a passenger in a vehicle driven by Ernest Crawford, who was insured by The Hartford Insurance Company. A state court civil action was initiated and the action was decided adversely to the plaintiff. The defendants in the above-captioned case are attorneys who represented various parties in the state court action, persons who investigated the accident or who provided testimony, the insurance company, and others associated with the state court case.

Discussion

Under established local procedure in this judicial district, a careful review has been made of the pro se pleadings. The review<sup>1</sup> has been conducted in light of the following precedents: Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25 (1992); Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319 (1989); Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519 (1972); Nasim v. Warden, Maryland House of Correction, 64 F.3d 951 (4th Cir. 1995)(en banc); Todd v. Baskerville, 712 F.2d 70 (4th Cir. 1983); Boyce v. Alizaduh, 595 F.2d 948 (4th Cir. 1979) (recognizing the district court's authority to conduct an initial screening of any pro se filing);<sup>2</sup> Loe v. Armistead, 582 F.2d 1291 (4th Cir. 1978); and Gordon v. Leeke, 574 F.2d 1147, 1151 (4th Cir. 1978). The plaintiff is a pro se litigant, and thus his pleadings are accorded liberal construction. See Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89 (2007)(per curiam); Hughes v. Rowe, 449 U.S. 5, 9-10 & n. 7 (1980)(per curiam); and Cruz v. Beto, 405 U.S. 319 (1972). When a federal court is evaluating a pro se complaint or petition, the plaintiff's or petitioner's allegations are assumed to be true. Fine v. City of New York, 529 F.2d 70, 74 (2nd Cir. 1975). Nevertheless, a plaintiff must plead factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is plausibly liable, not merely possibly liable. Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 129 S.Ct. 1937, 1949, 173 L.Ed.2d 868 (2009), which is cited in Silva v. Spencer, No. 08-cv-1686-H (LSP), 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 61467, 2009 WL 2160632 (S.D. Cal., July 17, 2009). Even under this less stringent standard, the complaint is subject to summary dismissal. The requirement of liberal construction does not mean that the court can ignore a clear failure in the pleading to allege facts which set forth a claim currently cognizable in a federal district court. Weller v. Department of Social Services, 901 F.2d 387 (4th Cir. 1990).

<sup>1</sup>Pursuant to the provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(B) and Local Civil Rule 73.02 (DSC), the undersigned is authorized to review such complaints for relief and submit findings and recommendations to the District Court.

<sup>2</sup>Boyce has been held by some authorities to have been abrogated in part, on other grounds, by Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319 (1989) (insofar as Neitzke establishes that a complaint that fails to state a claim, under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6), does not by definition merit sua sponte dismissal under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B)(i) [formerly 28 U.S.C. § 1915(d)], as “frivolous”).

The mandated liberal construction afforded to pro se pleadings means that if the court can reasonably read the pleadings to state a valid claim on which the plaintiff could prevail, it should do so, but a district court may not rewrite a petition or complaint to include claims that were never presented, Barnett v. Hargett, 174 F.3d 1128, 1133 (10th Cir. 1999), or construct the plaintiff's or petitioner's legal arguments for him or her, Small v. Endicott, 998 F.2d 411, 417-18 (7th Cir. 1993), or "conjure up questions never squarely presented" to the court, Beaudett v. City of Hampton, 775 F.2d 1274, 1278 (4th Cir. 1985).

Generally, a case can be originally filed in a federal district court if there is diversity of citizenship under 28 U.S.C. § 1332 or there if there is so-called "federal question" jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1331. Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction, "constrained to exercise only the authority conferred by Article III of the Constitution and affirmatively granted by federal statute." In re Bulldog Trucking, Inc., 147 F.3d 347, 352 (4th Cir. 1998). Since federal courts have limited subject matter jurisdiction, there is no presumption that the court has jurisdiction. Pinkley, Inc. v. City of Frederick, 191 F.3d 394, 399 (4th Cir. 1999) (citing Lehigh Mining & Mfg. Co. v. Kelly, 160 U.S. 327, 337 (1895)). Accordingly, a federal court is required, sua sponte, to determine if a valid basis for its jurisdiction exists, "and to dismiss the action if no such ground appears." Bulldog Trucking, 147 F.3d at 352.

“[T]he facts providing the court jurisdiction must be affirmatively alleged in the complaint.” Davis v. Pak, 856 F.2d 648, 650 (4th Cir. 1988) (citing McNutt v. General Motors Acceptance Corp., 298 U.S. 178 (1936)). To this end, Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(a)(1) requires that the complaint provide “a short plain statement of the grounds upon which the court's jurisdiction depends[.]” If, however, the complaint does not contain “an affirmative pleading of a jurisdictional basis, the federal court may find that it has jurisdiction if the facts supporting jurisdiction have been clearly pleaded.” Pinkley, Inc., 191 F.3d at 399 (citing 2 Moore's Federal Practice § 8.03[3] (3rd edition 1997)).

Although the absence of subject matter jurisdiction may be raised at any time during the case, determining jurisdiction at the outset of the litigation is the most efficient procedure. Lovern v. Edwards, 190 F.3d 648, 654 (4th Cir. 1999). If the court, viewing the allegations in the light most favorable to the plaintiff, finds insufficient allegations in the pleadings, the court will lack subject matter jurisdiction. Id.

The case at issue was formerly pending in the Court of Common Pleas for Chesterfield County. The Supreme Court of South Carolina, the Court of Appeals of South Carolina, Courts of General Sessions, Courts of Common Pleas, Family Courts, Probate Courts, magistrate's courts, and municipal courts are in a unified judicial system. See Article V, Section 1 of the Constitution of the State of South Carolina (“The judicial power shall be vested in a unified judicial system, which shall include a Supreme Court, a Court of Appeals, a Circuit Court, and such other courts of uniform jurisdiction as may be provided for by general law.”); City of Pickens v. Schmitz, 297 S.C. 253, 376 S.E.2d 271, 272 (1989); Cort Industries Corp. v. Swirl, Inc., 264 S.C. 142, 213 S.E.2d 445, 446 (1975); and State ex rel. McLeod v. Civil and Criminal Court of Horry County, 265 S.C. 114, 217

S.E.2d 23, 24 (1975).<sup>3</sup> The entity known as the South Carolina Court Administration operates the State of South Carolina's unified judicial system pursuant to the authority delegated by the Supreme Court of South Carolina. See Article V, Section 4 of the Constitution of the State of South Carolina; and Bailey v. State, 309 S.C. 455, 424 S.E.2d 503 (1992).

Although the application of the Rooker-Feldman doctrine has been limited in recent cases, see, e.g., Exxon Mobil Corp. v. Saudi Basic Industries Corp., 544 U.S. 280 (2005), and Davani v. Virginia Dept. of Transportation, 434 F.3d 712 (4th Cir. 2006), it is readily apparent that the above-captioned case has been filed in the wrong court. Appeals of orders issued by lower state courts must go to a higher state court. Secondly, the Congress, for more than two hundred years, has provided that only the Supreme Court of the United States may review a decision of a state court in a direct appeal. 28 U.S.C. § 1257. In civil, criminal, and other cases, the Supreme Court of the United States has reviewed decisions of the Supreme Court of South Carolina that were properly brought before it under 28 U.S.C. § 1257 or that statute's predecessors. See Green Tree Financial Corp. v. Bazzle, 539 U.S. 444 (2003), reversing Bazzle v. Green Tree Financial Corp. 351 S.C. 244, 569 S.E.2d 349 (2002); Lucas v. South Carolina Coastal Council, 505 U.S. 1003 (1992), reversing 304 S.C. 376, 404 S.E.2d 895 (1991); In Re Primus, 436 U.S. 412, 432-39 (1978), reversing In Re Smith, 268 S.C. 259, 233 S.E.2d 301 (1977)(per curiam); Edwards v. South Carolina, 372 U.S. 229 (1963), reversing State v. Edwards, 239 S.C. 339, 123 S.E.2d 247 (1961); and Murray v. Charleston, 96 U.S. 432, 443-49 (1878), reversing Jenkins v. Charleston, 5 S.C. 393 (1874). Cf. Bonner v.

<sup>3</sup>County courts in the State of South Carolina no longer exist. Section 22 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of South Carolina (1973) allowed "any existing court" on the date of ratification to continue operating until Article V was fully implemented. State ex rel. McLeod v. Civil and Criminal Court of Horry County, 217 S.E.2d at 24 ("The Horry County Court is one of the courts continued in existence solely by virtue of the provisions of Section 22 of Article V.").

Circuit Court of St. Louis, 526 F.2d 1331, 1336 (8th Cir. 1975)(en banc). In Bonner v. Circuit Court of St. Louis, the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit pointed out that federal constitutional claims are cognizable in both state courts and in federal courts: "Congress and the federal courts have consistently recognized that federal courts should permit state courts to try state cases, and that, where constitutional issues arise, state court judges are fully competent to handle them subject to Supreme Court review." See also 28 U.S.C. § 1738 (federal court must accord full faith and credit to state court judgment).

Breach of contract, breach of contract accompanied by fraudulent act, negligence, fraud, certain types of insurance claims, and unfair trade practices are causes of action under South Carolina law. See Johnson v. Key Equipment Finance, 367 S.C. 665, 627 S.E.2d 740 (2006); Slack v. James, 364 S.C. 609, 614 S.E.2d 636 (2005); Huggins v. Citibank, N.A., 355 S.C. 329, 585 S.E.2d 275 (2003); McCarter v. Willis, 299 S.C. 198, 383 S.E.2d 252, 253-54 (S.C.Ct.App. 1989); Player v. Chandler, 299 S.C. 101, 382 S.E.2d 891, 893 (1989); Nichols v. State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co., 279 S.C. 336, 306 S.E.2d 616 (1983) (recognizing cause of action for bad faith refusal to pay first-party benefits due under an insurance contract); Edens v. Laurel Hill, Inc., 271 S.C. 360, 247 S.E.2d 434, 435-36 (1978); Hughes v. Edwards, 265 S.C. 529, 220 S.E.2d 231, 234 (1975); and Stein v. Xepapas, 204 S.C. 239, 246, 29 S.E.2d 257, 259 (1944). The tort of "outrage"<sup>4</sup> is actionable under South Carolina law. See Frazier v. Badger, 361 S.C. 94, 104, 603 S.E.2d 587, 592 (2004); and Ford v. Hutson, 276 S.C. 157, 276 S.E.2d 776 (1981) (recognizing cause of action, citing "with approval" four elements for cause of action adopted by the Supreme Court of Maine, and “adopt[ing] the rule of liability stated in § 46 of the Restatement (Second) of Torts relating to intentional infliction of emotional distress”).

A state law cause of action would be cognizable in this federal court under the diversity statute, if that statute's requirements are satisfied. Cianbro Corporation v. Jeffcoat and Martin, 804 F. Supp. 784, 788-791 (D.S.C. 1992), affirmed, Cianbro Corporation v. Jeffcoat and Martin, No. 92-2368, 10 F.3d 806 [Table], 1993 U.S.App. LEXIS 30080, 1993 WL 478836 (4th Cir., Nov. 22, 1993). The diversity statute, 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a), requires complete diversity of parties and an amount in controversy in excess of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00):

(a) The district courts shall have original jurisdiction of all civil actions where the matter in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs, and is between—

(1) citizens of different States[.]

28 U.S.C. § 1332. Complete diversity of parties in a case means that no party on one side may be a citizen of the same State as any party on the other side. See Owen Equipment & Erection Co. v. Kroger, 437 U.S. 365, 372-74 (1978).

Complete diversity of parties is absent in this case because the plaintiff and the individual defendants are citizens of South Carolina. See Complaint (Entry No. 1); 28 U.S.C. 1332; and Strawbridge v. Curtiss, 7 U.S. (3 Cranch) 267 (1806).<sup>5</sup> Hence, this federal court lacks subject matter jurisdiction over any state law claims. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(h)(3), which provides: “Whenever it appears by suggestion of the parties or otherwise that the court lacks jurisdiction of the subject matter, the court shall dismiss the action.”

<sup>5</sup>New provisions were added to the diversity statute in 2005 when the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005, Pub. L. No. 109-2, 119 Stat. 4 (2005), was enacted. Those provisions are not applicable in the case sub judice.

Defendants Cooke and Bentancourt and any other defendant who testified in the state court case are entitled to summary dismissal. In this judicial circuit, it is well settled that a witness in a state court proceeding cannot be sued under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 because a witness does not act under color of state law, which is a jurisdictional requirement for a § 1983 suit. Burke v. Miller, 580 F.2d 108, 109-10 & n. 3 (4th Cir. 1978). Moreover, all persons who testified in any judicial proceedings relating to the accident have absolute immunity in an action for damages brought under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. See Briscoe v. LaHue, 460 U.S. 325, 327-46 (1983); and Lowman v. Town of Concord, No. 93-CV-0636E(F), 1995 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3041, 1995 WL 108224 (W.D.N.Y., March 7, 1995) (collecting cases).

The above-captioned case, in part, is not maintainable as a Section 1983 action because the non-state defendants have not acted under color of state law. See Gomez v. Toledo, 446 U.S. 635, 640 (1980); American Mfr. Mut. Ins. Co. v. Sullivan, 526 U.S. 40, 50-52 (1999); and Hall v. Quillen, 631 F.2d 1154, 1155-56 & nn. 2-3 (4th Cir. 1980). The district court in Hall v. Quillen had disposed of the case against a physician and a court-appointed attorney on grounds of immunity. In affirming the district court's order, the Court of Appeals, however, indicated that lower courts should first determine whether state action occurred:

But immunity as a defense only becomes a relevant issue in a case such as this if the court has already determined affirmatively that the action of the defendant represented state action. This is so because state action is an essential preliminary condition to § 1983 jurisdiction, and a failure to find state action disposes of such an action adversely to the plaintiff.

Hall v. Quillen, 631 F.2d at 1155 (citations omitted). See also Lugar v. Edmondson Oil Co., 457 U.S. 922, 936 (1982) ("Careful adherence to the 'state action' requirement . . . also avoids imposing on the State, its agencies or officials, responsibility for conduct for which they cannot fairly be blamed."). Specifically, the denial of insurance payments by The Hartford Insurance Company is not action under color of law. American Mfr. Mut. Ins. Co. v. Sullivan, 526 U.S. at 50-52 (held: private insurer did not act under color of state law, for purposes of 42 U.S.C. § 1983, when it terminated payment of workers compensation benefits pending review).

The plaintiff does not have standing to seek criminal charges against the defendants. See Linda R. S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973) (a private citizen does not have a judicially cognizable interest in the prosecution or non-prosecution of another person); Diamond v. Charles, 476 U.S. 54, 64-65 (1986) (applying Linda R. S. v. Richard D. and collecting cases); Doyle v. Oklahoma State Bar Ass'n, 998 F.2d 1559, 1566-67 (10th Cir. 1993); Lane v. Correll, 434 F.2d 598, 600 (5th Cir. 1970); Nader v. Saxbe, 162 U.S.App.D.C. 89, 497 F.2d 676, 679 nn. 18-19, 681 n. 27 (D.C. Cir. 1974) (n. 27: "Thus her [Linda R. S.'s] complaint in effect sought a judicial order compelling prosecution of a particular individual, a practice shunned by American courts."); and United States v. Passman, 465 F. Supp. 736, 741 & n. 13 (W.D. La. 1979) ("the defendant lacks standing to challenge the failure of the government to instigate criminal proceedings against another person."). See also Collins v. Palczewski, 841 F. Supp. 333, 340 (D. Nev. 1993) ("Long ago the courts of these United States established that 'criminal statutes cannot be enforced by civil actions.'").

This is the second case brought by the plaintiff in this court concerning the automobile accident in November of 2000. In Muhammad Qadir v. H. L. Cooke, et al., Civil Action No. 4:08-0498-TLW-JRM, the plaintiff brought suit against various defendants on February 12, 2008. In a Report and Recommendation filed in Civil Action No. 4:08-0498-TLW-JRM on March 6, 2008, the undersigned recommended that the case be dismissed without prejudice. The plaintiff filed timely written objections to the Report and Recommendation. The plaintiff also submitted an amended complaint. In an order filed in Civil Action No. 4:08-0498-TLW-JRM on December 11, 2008, the Honorable Terry L. Wooten, United States District Judge, adopted the Report and Recommendation. No appeal was filed in Civil Action No. 4:08-0498-TLW-JRM.

This court may take judicial notice of Civil Action No. 4:08-0498-TLW-JRM. Aloe Creme Laboratories, Inc. v. Francine Co., 425 F.2d 1295, 1296 (5th Cir. 1970). See also Colonial Penn Ins. Co. v. Coil, 887 F.2d 1236, 1239 (4th Cir. 1989) (“We note that ‘the most frequent use of judicial notice is in noticing the content of court records.’”); Mann v. Peoples First National Bank & Trust Co., 209 F.2d 570, 572 (4th Cir. 1954) (approving district court’s taking judicial notice of prior suit with same parties: “We think that the judge below was correct in holding that he could take judicial notice of the proceedings had before him in the prior suit to which Mann and the Distilling Company as well as the bank were parties.”); and United States v. Parker, 956 F.2d 169, 171 (8th Cir. 1992).

The above-captioned case is subject to summary dismissal for the same reasons that Civil Action No. 4:08-0498-TLW-JRM was subject to summary dismissal. See Aloe Creme Laboratories, Inc. v. Francine Co., where the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit commented:

The District Court clearly had the right to take notice of its own files and records and it had no duty to grind the same corn a second time. Once was sufficient.

Aloe Creme Laboratories, Inc. v. Francine Co., 425 F.2d at 1296.

Recommendation

Accordingly, it is recommended that the District Court summarily dismiss the above-captioned case without prejudice. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915. See also In Re Prison Litigation Reform Act, 105 F.3d 1131 (6th Cir. 1997) (pleadings by prisoners and non-prisoners should also be screened); and Fitzgerald v. First East Seventh Street Tenants Corp., 221 F.3d 362, 363-364 (2nd Cir. 2000) (“District courts . . . are . . . capable of determining when an action is frivolous. Indeed, as courts of first instance, district courts are especially likely to be exposed to frivolous actions, and thus have an even greater need for inherent authority to dismiss such actions quickly in order to preserve scarce judicial resources.”). The plaintiff is advised that he may file specific written objections to this Report and Recommendation with the District Judge. Objections must specifically identify the portions of the Report and Recommendation to which objections are made and the basis for such objections. “[I]n the absence of a timely filed objection, a district court need not conduct a de novo review, but instead must ‘only satisfy itself that there is no clear error on the face of the record in order to accept the recommendation.’” *Diamond v.
